The Last Attraction of the Stage-A Grand

Realistic Melo-Drama.

In all its original scenic effects and stage movements. The strong play is grandly tragic in its development. Mr. Brown's name is one of the greatest names. Hours of pleasure are in store for you all at the Stranglers of Paris. A grand real Melo-Drama.

See it this evening.

The Stranglers of Paris.

One of the largest and most select audiences of the season assembled at M'Cllelland's opera house last night to see the presentation of that thrilling drama, "The Stranglers of Paris." The performance was very successful and the audience bestowed a liberal amount of applause upon it throughout. The company was evenly balanced and as such one of the strongest that has visited Houston for a long time. Frank Tannenfeld, as Jagon the Strangler did some fine acting, and his impersonation of the wicked criminal was realistic and natural. The cast throughout was good and the audience were well pleased. The company is giving a matinee this afternoon and will give a borrowed performance tonight. Those who have not attended should not fail to see the play this evening.—Houston, Texas. Daily Courier.

We desire very particularly to call the attention of our friends and former patrons to a few very pertinent and timely facts, the first of which is that we have disposed of our market business, returning on Saturday evening, April 16th, and beg your consideration to our success—Messrs. Jarman & Groves in recommending these gentlemen we feel assured that they will serve well and faithfully all who give them their patronage. All our counts under our administration will be made to include the 16th, and we earnestly hope that when called upon ALL will be prepared to settle promptly, as our arrangements are being rapidly perfected for our SPEEDY DEPARTURE FOR CALIFORNIA. We have to offer country and divers articles of use at a bargain, a few of which we here enumerate, to wit: A fine family carriage, a bated wagon, 125 acres of land adjoining W. H. Jones' place, some horses with young colts, and a variety of other articles too numerous to mention. Our great bargain is of 12 acres, which we will rent for a term of from three to five years. We have planted there 1,000 fruit trees, with their first crop to be raised this year besides which there are 100 acres of corn, up and growing finely, and which has been put to a stand and plowed the third time. A bargain can surely be had in the rental of this property. Call and see me at my old stand, "The Market." Respectfully,

SANFORD JOHNSON.
